

VivaCT40 Mouse Whole Body Tube

The mouse lies in a plastic tube, which is filled with anaesthesia. This setup enables any anatomical location in the mouse to be scanned; however, consistency in bone orientation tends to be poor.

A mouse in the whole body fixture:

